

Company: AKTRION SRL ROMANIA

Short description of company: We offer fully managed support services, providing seamless integration into processes for the automotive industry worldwide. We deliver proactive quality, environmental and safe working policies alongside procedure adherence in service delivery and processes management. Our focus layered audits drive continual improvement and ensure best-in-class service provision. Our diverse service scope ranges from simple robust concern containment, though product inspection, rework, rectification and verification to complex lean / Six Sigma engineered problem resolution with value added process efficiency and product quality optimization. We are established automotive specialists in both rapid response reactive concern management and proactive people and process business development solutions. International presence: Argentina, Brazil, China, India, Russia, Thailand, Turkey, USA, Austria, Czech Republic, France, Germany, Hungary, Italy, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Slovakia, Spain, Sweden and U.K.

Candidate profile: We are looking for two Mechanical Engineers that are willing to relocate in South Korea and Taiwan for determinate period (3 to 6 months) and work as Resident Engineers. The candidates should speak, write and understand English at advanced level and they should have a good professional experience in automotive area.

Job description: You'll work as a Resident Engineer. As resident you'll represent a supplier in front of their client. You'll have to send daily reports, to ensure the quality of your supplier products, to verify the products, to stay in permanent contact with the supplier and the client, to ensure the logistic. You'll be the image of your supplier in front of their client. Provide proactive and reactive quality and engineering support for launch phase and serial production phase.
Proactive: Anticipation of potential issues before occurrence requiring good regular communication with supplier plant to understand the build quality.
Reactive: When the issue is not an anticipated a fast response in line with the G8D process. Available to the customer and to supplier Plant via mobile phone when needed. Messages should be regularly checked and a timely response provided.

Please send your CV on the following e-mail address: romania@aktrion.com.